UNITED STATES SENATOR

May 2019

Dear Participants:

Congratulations on making it to the Grand National Tournament for the National Catholic Forensics League! This is a testament to hard work and dedication in your extracurricular activities. You deserve to be proud of the accomplishments that have gotten you to the national stage.

Public speaking and performance are some of the most valuable skills in the professional world. I commend you for developing these skills through debate and forensics while in school. I hope you will continue to learn about policy, government, acting, and other oratory skills, as these will help you in every classroom and every job you pursue.

I applaud your potential and cannot wait to see what your futures bring. Congratulations again, and best of luck at the tournament!

Sincerely,
